

Orrie Fenn signing the pledge with the PPC Hercules team at the launch of the Behavioural Safety Initiative.

The PPC Safety Bill of Rights:

- 1 Every PPC team member has the right and duty to work safely and to ensure that all members of their team work safely.
- 2 Every PPC team member has the right and duty to be supplied with, and use, the proper safety equipment.
- 3 Every PPC team member has the right and duty to participate in Risk Assessments related to their work practices and conditions.
- 4 Every PPC team member has the right and duty to ensure that they receive adequate safety training related to their role.
- 5 Every PPC team member has the right and duty to STOP any work which could be unsafe. Stop and think. If in doubt, stay out!

Deloitte Best Company To Work For fast facts

- PPC has been placed among the top three companies for three consecutive years.
- PPC has been nominated as the Best Manufacturing Company to Work For for four consecutive years.
- PPC has achieved the Sustainable Performance award for the past three years.

PPC supplier Carpe Diem lives up to its name

PPC suppliers Carpe Diem Coal SA, the preferred coal supplier to the PPC group for the past three years, and its sister company, Carpe Diem Logistics, are run by husband-and-wife team, Colin and Sharlene Lotter, here on either side of PPC procurement manager Robert Fleischer. The secret of Carpe Diem's success is reliability, honesty and integrity; dovetailing with the values that formulate PPC's culture and approach to conducting business. "It is our philosophy to embrace and understand PPC's business," says Colin. "Our ability to adapt and modify our systems and processes to keep up with the changes experienced in the cement manufacturing industry has been the foundation of the relationship that we enjoy with PPC."